

BREAD & BONES

I Dreamed I Rose – © 2007 Richard Ruane

I dreamed I rose as angels rise
Above my home, above my town
And I could see below my eyes
This world we know spread all around

And every one who lives below
I saw them there beneath my eyes
Their hopes, their dreams, their fears and cares
Their deepest truths and darkest lies

I did not judge, I only saw
But understood all life can be
I saw a purpose for us all
One, now awake, I cannot see

Oh, I'm of this world, and I'm in this world
With waking day before my eyes
I see my way as any one
But once I knew a dream to rise
I dreamed I rose as angels rise
